WHEREAS, Research shows that neighborhoods with vacant or abandoned properties are linked to higher rates of mental distress, chronic illnesses, and unhealthy habits; and

WHEREAS, Vacant or abandoned housing stock without services and in unfinished conditions invite crime, depress home values, and discourage neighborhood investment; and

WHEREAS, Addressing blighted and abandoned properties promotes positive health outcomes for residents, increases home ownership, makes neighborhoods more attractive, and encourages reinvestment.

3. On line 2, delete “236of” and insert “236 of” in lieu

4. After line 11, insert the following:

A hearing officer may declare any premise a blight and public nuisance if either subsection (a) or (b) of this section is met.

5. On line 12, insert the heading “(a)” at the beginning of the paragraph and format accordingly.

6. On line 12, remove the word “vacant”.

7. On line 13, after the word “thereon” insert the word “that”.

8. On line 14, delete the words “the property”.

9. On lines 15-19, delete the sentence “Any vacant commercial or residential premises that has not been occupied or otherwise use in furtherance of a commercial or residential purpose within the preceding two (2) or more years and for which no plans to alienate, lease, or imminently occupy or otherwise use in furtherance of a commercial or residential purpose may be declared a blight and public nuisance by a hearing officer.”

10. On line 19, remove the word “vacant”.

11. After line 21, insert the following:

(b) Any vacant structure that is not an accessory structure located on a residential or commercial premises may be declared a blight and public nuisance by a hearing officer based on the following factors:

- (1) The vacant structure is in a condition not immediately fit for the use or occupancy of a structure of its type;
 - (2) The vacant structure has not had electrical service, water service, sewer service, or other utilities customarily required to make a structure of its type fit for use or occupancy during the preceding six months; or
 - (3) Construction reasonably calculated to permit the use or occupancy of the vacant structure has not occurred during the preceding six months, as evidenced by the absence of an open construction permit or such other evidence as the city may reasonably provide.
- (c) An owner or occupant cited pursuant to subsection (b) may avoid a declaration of blight and public nuisance for a vacant structure by promptly undertaking and diligently completing the work necessary to permit occupancy or use of the vacant structure. Such efforts shall be evidenced by a written contract with a licensed contractor dated not less than 45 days before the hearing and containing a scope of work reasonably calculated to further the use or occupancy of the vacant structure. In such an event, continuance hearings before the hearing officer shall be held every 90 days until the renovation of the vacant structure is complete and is again fit for use or occupancy. The owner or occupant shall be limited to not more than four (4) continuances. In the event the owner or occupant fails to bring the vacant structure into compliance by the end of the expiration of the fourth continuance, the hearing officer may order the vacant structure declared a blight and public nuisance. If the owner or occupant fails during any continuance hearing to demonstrate ongoing good-faith efforts to bring the vacant structure into compliance, the hearing officer may order the vacant structure declared a blight and public nuisance.
